6. Is there a specific sequence in which I should take the courses?

Yes, we highly recommend that students take the preliminary courses first, and then the core courses, and lastly the elective courses (see questions 3, 4 & 5). This sequence will provide you with the knowledge needed to successfully complete all of the courses.

7. Are the following courses required for Rutgers Business School-New Brunswick (RBS-NB) students: Marketing for Entrepreneurs & Small Businesses, Accounting for Entrepreneurs & Small Businesses, Finance for Entrepreneurs & Small Businesses?

No, RBS students are not required nor permitted to take these courses because they take similar courses as a part of their RBS core requirements.

8. I am a freshman/sophomore; can I take an entrepreneurship class?

Students with freshman or sophomore standing are permitted to take the preliminary courses (see question 4). The rest of the entrepreneurship courses have a junior/senior requirement.

9. I am a junior/senior can I still add this minor and graduate on time?

That depends on your school’s graduation requirements. You are allowed to take multiple entrepreneurship courses in one semester, as long as the prerequisites have been completed.

10. How/When do I declare the minor/concentration?

That depends on your individual school’s policies. Contact your Dean’s Office to find out how/when you can declare a minor/concentration.

11. Can I declare this as my minor before taking the three preliminary core courses or do I have to take those courses first before I do so?

Currently, you can declare the minor prior to taking the three preliminary courses, but we do recommend that you take at least one course prior to declaring the minor so that you can make an informed decision on whether or not it is something in which you are interested.

12. Is the entrepreneurship minor only available to SAS or can SEBS students also take these courses?

The entrepreneurship minor is available to all non-RBS Rutgers New Brunswick undergraduate students.
13. I tried to register for one of the entrepreneurship courses, but the web registration system said I needed a special permission number. How do I go about getting one?

If the course is not closed, you can contact the entrepreneurship program at entminor@business.rutgers.edu to request one. If the course is closed, we cannot give out special permission numbers due to classroom capacities.

14. I do not have a business background, are these classes for me?

Yes, this program is for you. The courses are designed so that both business and non-business students can succeed. The preliminary courses give you the basic business foundation you will need to understand the entrepreneurship courses.

15. What would be the advantage of minoring in entrepreneurship?

- Can teach you how to develop an idea into an actual business or venture such as a nonprofit
- If you have an existing business, learn how to sustain and grow it
- Get hands on experience with real-life entrepreneurs
- Gain the knowledge needed to start your own business
- Learn to promote your own ideas within an organization
