

Alumni Service Award

Brian R. Fagen

Brian R. Fagen is a Managing Director and Co-Head of Americas Cash Equities Markets and Co-Head of Global Execution Services at BNP Paribas in New York.

Brian's current responsibilities cover the entirety of the Cash Equities business including Sales and Trading, Research Distribution and Corporate Access. He joined BNP Paribas in March of 2020 from Deutsche Bank as part of the transfer of the Electronic Equities and Prime Finance businesses. At DB he was the Head of Equity Execution Services and Execution Strategy. He was previously Head of Global Electronic Trading Distribution and Co-Head of Liquid Market Sales Americas at Barclays, a role he also held at Lehman Brothers before joining Barclays in 2008. Brian spent two years at Lehman Brothers prior to the Barclays acquisition, after having held senior roles at Morgan Stanley including leading the Program Trading, Electronic Trading, Equity Futures and Money Manager Derivative Sales businesses from 1988 until 2006.

Brian is a board member of the Rutgers Road to Wall Street Program, and National Organization of Investment Professionals. He previously held board positions at BATS Stock Exchange (now part of CBOE), BIDS Trading, The Mead School and The Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation of Westchester County, NY. He holds a BS in Accounting from Rutgers University.